

The Queen Elizabeth 1966 Definitives

The 1967 Rate Rise

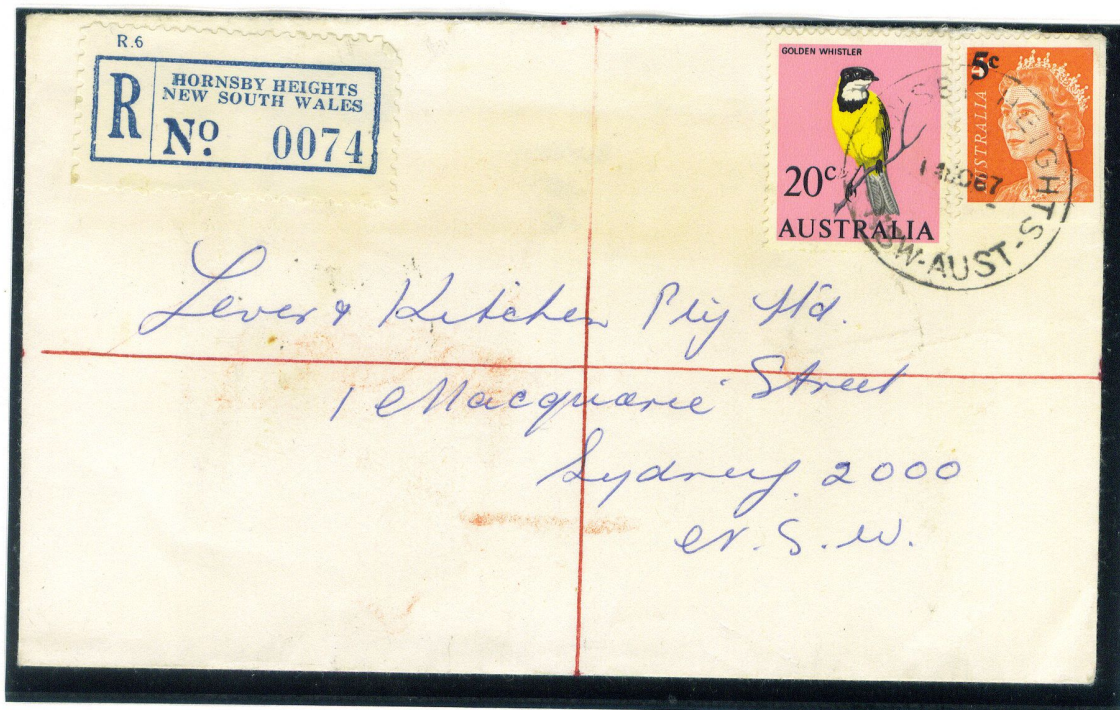

When the basic postage rate increased from 4c to 5c on 1 October 1967, large stocks of the 4c booklet stamps were still on hand. The Post Office decided to use them up via an overprint to the new denomination, and they were sold in booklets containing either 2 or 4 panes (at 50c or $1).

One of six overprinted booklet panes

Examples of each of the six slogans used in the booklets

Use of the overprinted booklet stamp to make up the 25c registered postage rate on 4 November 1967